Beliefs:

A child is born with fundamental rights to live in freedom, liberty, dignity and in loving care. Every child has the right to adequate food, clothing, shelter, education, medical care, protection and development with proper guidance. All children deserve healthy growth, quality education and adequate skills to making them independent to live a productive life.

Education :

Most people in India do not have access to good education and improved literacy level is lacking in the programmes provided by governmental agencies. These programmes are wanting in quality education and necessary skills that prepare youth to shoulder responsibilities in managing society and it's business competence. SSS fills this gap through innovative programmes and projects to enhance the competencies & empower women in every walk of life.

Women Empowerment :

Mainstreaming & women empowerment is central to human development. Empowerment of women could be achieved if their social and economic status is improved. This could be possible only by implementing definite social, economic, educational and entrepreneurship programs in rural areas with a view to total development of women and to make them realize that they have the potential to be strong human beings.

Underprivileged Children Development :

Childhood is characterized as a period of special consideration in human rights terms, and a period of evolving abilities, wonderment and protection crucial to ensuring that children under the age of 18 years have the right confidence, and environment in which they can make choices, express their view and communicate effectively with other children and adults. Children can only become change agents to improve their lives and that of their families if they are safe guarded from abuse, discrimination and harm of any kind, be it physical, mental, sexual and emotional or neglect. Provisions will be set forth to meet these challenges.

Rural Development :

People in rural areas should have the same quality of life as is enjoyed by the people living in suburban & urban areas. Further, there are cascading effects of poverty, unemployment, poor and inadequate infrastructure in rural area causing slums, consequential social and economic tensions manifesting in economic deprivation and social justice, improvement in the living standard by providing adequate social services and minimum basic needs. The present focus is on poverty alleviation, better livelihood opportunities, provision of basic amenities and infrastructure through innovative program of wage and self employment.

HIV/Aids & STDs :

No other word engenders as much fear, revulsion, despair and utter helplessness as HIV/AIDS. Despite increased HIV/AIDS awareness, the terror persists. HIV/AIDS is rewriting medical history as deadliest scourge. Forty million deaths is a forecast in this millennium and the statistics tell their own sordid tale. As definite HIV/AIDS cure is still in the research stage, an increased HIV/AIDS awareness, counseling and alternative treatment is the focus of SSS programmes. Sexually transmitted diseases, prevention and cure is paramount and becomes the top priority agenda.
